President Opens Campaign for Defense Program.

NO AGGRESSIVE PURPOSES

In Address at New York Chief Executive Outlines Plans of the Administration to Place the United States in a Position of Preparedness in Event of War.

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson opened the administration campaign for its national defense program in a comprehensive and carefully prepared address delivered here at the Manhattan club banquet. He declared solemnly that the United States has no aggressive purposes, but must be prepared to defend itself and to assume "full liberty and self-development."

Significantly he said, "with ourselves in this great matter we associate all the peoples of our own hemisphere," adding that "we wish not only for the United States, but for them the fullest freedom of independent growth of action."

The president was received with enthusiastic applause as he entered the banquet hall and during his address. The hall was decorated with American flags and filled even to the galleries with Democrats happy over their victory of Tuesday in New York.

When the president arose to speak every one jumped up and applauded until he was forced to signal for quiet.

Refers to European War.

"Within a year," said the president, "we have witnessed what we did not think possible, a great European conflict involving many of the greatest nations of the world. The influences of the great war are everywhere in the air. All Europe is in battle."

"Force everywhere speaks out with a loud and imperious voice in a titanic struggle of government and from one end of our own dear country to the other men are asking one another what our own force is, how far we are prepared to maintain ourselves against any interference with our national action or development."

The president called on "men of all shades of political opinion," to rally to the support of the program. He said it represents "the best professional and expert opinion of the country" and gave warning that "if men differ with me in this vital matter I shall ask them to make it clear how far and in what way they are interested in making the permanent interests of the country safe against disturbance."

There is no need for the country to feel panic stricken, the president declared, because it stands on friendly relations with the world.

Courage to Defend Rights.

He spoke of the United States as a nation too big and generous to be exacting, but yet "courageous enough to defend its rights and the liberties of its people wherever assailed or involved."

Outlining the defense program the president said it includes an increase in the standing army, the training within the next three years of 400,000 citizen soldiers, to be raised in an annual force of 133,000, and the strengthening of the national guard. He laid particular emphasis on the need of ample equipment.

The president declared that the navy already is a "very great and efficient force," but that to bring it to a point of "extraordinary force and efficiency," a definite policy must be adopted and hastened and an adequate supply of men and equipment provided.

In addition to speaking of national defense the president attacked "men who love other countries better than America," and men who stir up religious and sectarian antagonism. "He declared that such men should be 'called to a reckoning.'"

TAFT RAPS PENAL REFORM

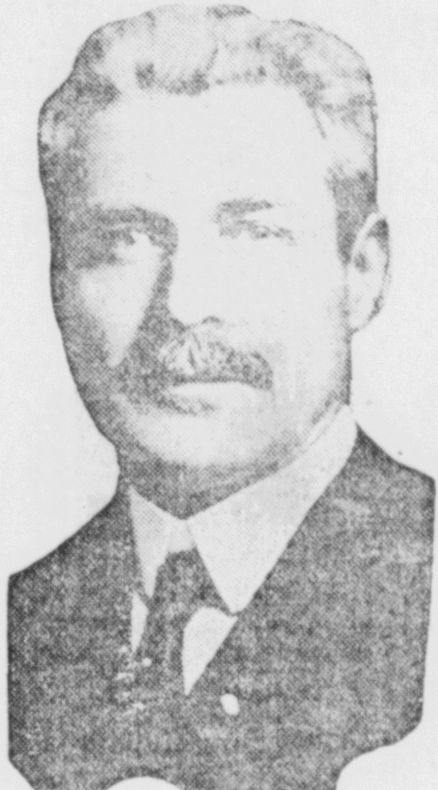

Former President Cautions Against Making Society Scapegoat.

New York, Nov. 5.—The people of New York and of the country generally are in danger of being led by an unwise sentiment into a treatment of convicted criminals that will neither impart proper lessons of punishment nor deter others from crime, in the opinion of William H. Taft.

"The impulse of many prison reformers to treat the prisoners as victims of society and to make society the scapegoat for all their sins, vicious propensities and crimes is a wrong one," Mr. Taft said in an address before the Columbia University Institute of Arts and Sciences.

SAMUEL REA.

President of Pennsylvania Road Is Operated on.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, underwent a minor operation at Presbyterian hospital. Dr. Benjamin Thomas announced President Rea was doing nicely.

RICHARDS PRIMARY DEFEATED IN COURT

Right of Legislature to Repeal Initiated Act Upheld.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 5.—That the legislature has the power to set aside a law initiated by the people, is the holding of the South Dakota supreme court in an opinion written by Presiding Justice McCoy. The lower court of Beadle county is sustained in the case of State ex rel. Richards et al. vs. Whisman et al. This is the noted Richards primary case.

The last legislature by direct act enacted a new primary law and repealed the initiated law framed by R. O. Richards of Huron, which had been in effect the last four years. The court holds in brief that the initiative amendment in the constitution does not limit the powers of the legislature to enact laws, but only gives to the people the power to command the legislature to act on any measures which they may desire to have enacted, and that, when so enacted, the legislation is subject to the same action as any other law.

On the contention that the legislature had no right to add the "emergency" provision to the primary law it enacted it is held that so long as no attempt was made to apply the referendum to the primary act that issue is not before the court.

NOTE ARRIVES IN LONDON

American Protest May Be Made Public Monday.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Secretary Lansing was advised that the American note to Great Britain on interference with neutral trade arrived in London and will be delivered to the foreign office by Ambassador Page. Secretary Lansing is arranging with the British authorities with a view to its publication Monday morning.

Fabulous Price for Dyestuffs.

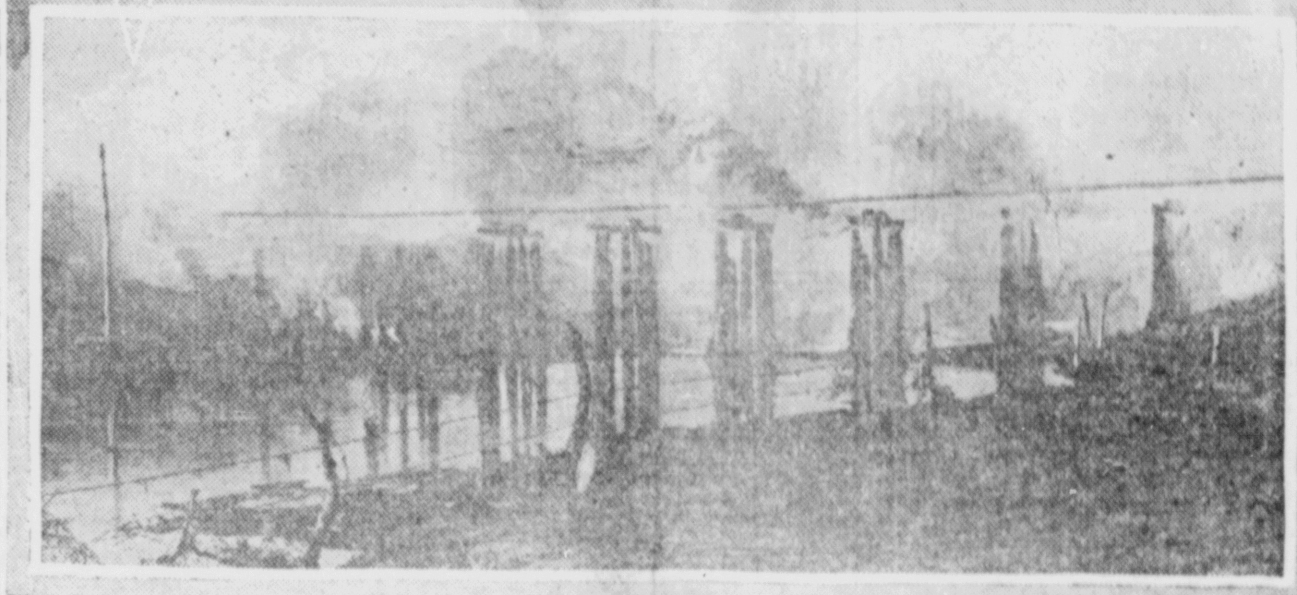

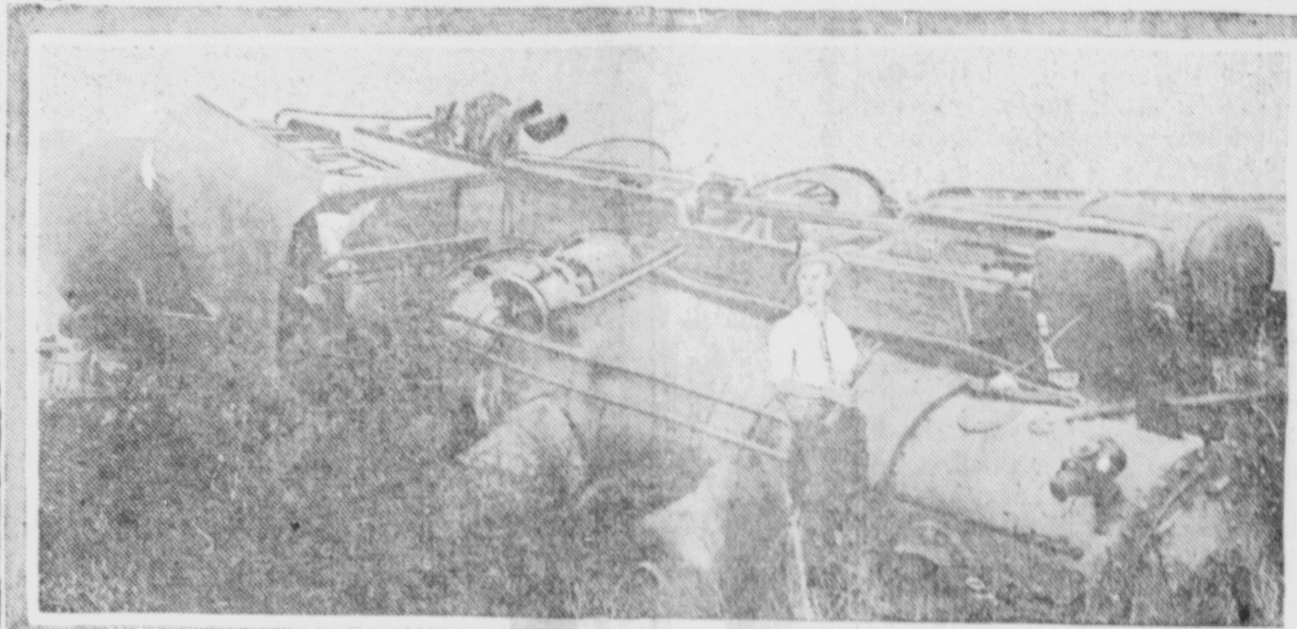

London, Nov. 5.—The tremendous increase in the price of dyestuffs due to the war was indicated when a keg of methylene blue was offered at a sale of lost property by the Midland railway. The keg, weighing 150 pounds and worth $60 before the war, was eagerly bid on and fetched $1,550.

SLEEPING GIRL CUTS OFF HER LONG BRAID.

Sheboygan, Wis., Nov. 5.—When Miss Gertrude Grasse, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grasse and one of the most popular girls in the freshman class of the Sheboygan high school, awakened her braid of heavy blonde hair, which hung to her waist when she retired, was gone. Miss Grasse ran screaming down stairs to tell her mother. On the library table she found the long braid of hair and beside it a pair of scissors. It is thought that during a nightmare she cut off her braid.

Train Wrecked and Bridge Burned by Mexican Bandits in Texas

Overtaken locomotive beneath which engineer was killed. Bridge burned by bandits to prevent aid to passengers.

These two scenes show what took place within six miles of Brownsville the other day when Mexican bandits tore up a rail from the track of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Texas Railroad to wreck a train. Ten Mexicans were shot by posse the following day.

A state health officer, who was a passenger, was shot to death by the bandits, and the engineer was killed when his locomotive overturned. One other life was lost.

In order to prevent posse and United States troops reaching the scene from Brownsville the bandits burned a bridge between the scene of the wreck and the city. How thoroughly they did their work may be seen from the rails hanging across the burned piles.

DISCUSSING PEACE NEGOTIATION

(By United Press)

Rome, Nov. 5.—A long report from Monsignor Marchetti, the papal envoy in Switzerland, concerning negotiations of some sort with Prince Von Buelow, ex-chancellor of Germany, arrived by the Vatican special courier. Despite emphatic denials the belief here is that Marchetti is discussing peace negotiations with Von Buelow.

King Will Defy War Party

(By United Press)

Athens, Nov. 5.—King Constantine probably will defy the war party. When Zaimis with his "neutrality" cabinet resigned yesterday, it was assumed Venizelos was to be re-elected but the conclusion now reached is that King Constantine will dissolve parliament instead of allowing Venizelos to return to power.

British Troops to Serbian Front

Athens, Nov. 5.—Two divisions of British troops are on their way from Salonika to the Bulgarian frontier, and more soldiers are entraining to follow this initial force. It is believed the British plan is to divert the Bulgarians from operations in Serbia by formidable raids in their own country.

Prompt Action Prevents Further Seizures Ships

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 5.—Prompt action by the United States prevented further seizures of American ships under the Anglo-French policy of determining ownership indicated by officials. It was reported this government will ask the British and French to refrain from further prize court seizures until the question regarding the Hocking is settled. The government is willing to make the Hocking a test case.

Carranza Will Suppress Border Bandits

(By United Press)

Eagle Pass, Texas, Nov. 5.—General Obregon is on his way to Douglas, Ariz., to take charge of the campaign against Villa. Gen. Carranza has assured Consul Stillman that Mexican bandits will be given no refuge on the Mexican side of the border. He said he planned to wage a vigorous campaign against the outlaws in northern Mexico. John Lind conferred with the first chief for two hours, and Carranza expressed great admiration for President Wilson and said he hoped diplomatic relations would soon be resumed. Mr. Lind left for home last night.

Vesuvius Again in Eruption

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson and Mrs. Galt motored about New York today before leaving for Washington.

Bryan Takes Issue With Wilsons Plans

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 5.—Wm. J. Bryan took complete issue with President Wilson on the latter's defense program outlined last night at the Manhattan club. Bryan declared the program violated the principles of humanity, and challenged the spirit of Christianity which teaches to influence by example, not by exciting fear. He said the United States will do infinite harm to neighboring nations if she is drawn into the defense program outlined by President Wilson. Bryan pointed out that we now spend more for preparedness than for agriculture, and tax payers are not in favor of increasing the burden when the change is unnecessary but contrary to national ideals. He said the United States is without an enemy and it is no use to begin preparedness when other nations are nearing exhaustion.

Bryan's statement formally opened his battle on preparedness. It was believed in all quarters here. Bryan's statement further widens the breach between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan. It indicates that an even split of the Democrats will not deter him from attacking President Wilson's position. It is believed to be the keynote of a campaign in Congress by the pacifist group against the proposals of increasing the army and navy.

CLEARY ACCUSED OF THEFT

Man Recently Acquitted of Murder Again Under Arrest.

Washington, Nov. 5.—William V. Cleary, former town clerk of Haverstraw, N. Y., acquitted last January of the murder of his son-in-law, Eugene M. Newman, after a sensational trial, was arrested here on a warrant charging larceny of $10,000 from the town of Haverstraw.

Cleary has been missing from Haverstraw since an investigation of the manner in which the murder trial was conducted disclosed alleged irregularities in his office. He was arrested by John McCullagh, former chief of police of New York.

SEAMEN'S LAW IN EFFECT

La Follette Measure for Control of American Vessels.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The La Follette seamen's law, designed to better conditions among seamen and to safeguard passengers by better equipment and lifesaving apparatus, has gone into effect so far as American ships are concerned.

SHOOTS FRIEND, ENDS LIFE

Montanan Accuses Companion of Stealing His Wife.

Glendive, Mont., Nov. 5.—"You stole my wife," yelled Ervin H. Damon at George Hoerner. Then he drew a revolver and shot Hoerner in the back. The two men had been working together for several days and were returning from a field to the farmhouse. Damon, after writing a note saying that he shot Hoerner, fired a bullet through his brain. Hoerner's injuries are not serious.

KING WITHHOLDS HIS ACCEPTANCE

May Persuade Greek Premier to Retain Office.

SERBIANS ARE BRACING UP

Although the Teutonic Forces Are Still Advancing Despite Valiant Resistance the Bulgarian Invasion Has Been Checked at Three Places.

London, Nov. 5.—Greece has once more taken her place as the central point of interest in the Balkans, for the cabinet of Alexander Zaimis has fallen and apparently former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos is again in the ascendancy.

Dissolution of the Greek parliament is talked of and King Constantine still holds the reins of power. His attitude, which always has been strongly neutral, has not in the present situation been defined. So far as latest advices go he has not accepted the resignation of the Zaimis ministry and it may be that the premier will be induced to retain office, or that another man than M. Venizelos will be asked to take the responsibility of forming a new ministry.

The defeat of the Greek government, however, is considered in London as strengthening the position of the entente powers with respect to affairs in the Balkans, for M. Venizelos has favored the policy of the allies and his overthrow of the Zaimis administration evidences the fact that he has the majority of the chamber behind him.

Bulgarians Suffer Checks.

Although the Austro-Germans are still advancing in Serbia, despite the valiant resistance of the Serbs, and the Bulgarians also are making progress in some sectors, the latter have been halted at three places.

To the east of Nish, along the Nisava river valley, they are retiring upon Bal Palanka. Down in the southeastern region, in the vicinity of Strumitsa, unofficial advices say they have been engaged by the French in an artillery duel and in the Babuna pass the Serbians are repelling their furious assaults.

The Bulgarians are a few miles to the northeast of Nish and are marching on that town, the capture of which would give the central powers an excellent point of vantage for the dispatch of arms and munitions to the Turks and for operating southward against the oncoming British and French forces.

The report that Russian forces have been landed at Varna on the Black sea is denied in an official message from Petrograd. But the British and French are still sending troops to Saloniki to be dispatched as quickly as possible to the aid of Serbia.

WELL PROVIDED WITH GUNS

Teutonic Artillery Is Overwhelming the Serbians.

London, Nov. 5.—The Daily Chronicle Serbian correspondent, who has just reached Saloniki from Belgrade and Kraguyevatz, declares that the German progress in Serbia is a repetition of the old story of overwhelming artillery power.

"It is established," he says, "that von Mackensen's army does not include more than 150,000 men, but it is provided with artillery ample for an army of 1,000,000. Into Belgrade alone more than 50,000 shells were poured."

CLAMOR FOR IMPROVEMENT

Bemidji Commercial Club Takes up
Matter of Better Train Service
From the M. & I.

At the meeting of the Commercial club the matter of securing better railroad service for Bemidji was taken up and a committee consisting of Frank S. Lyeon, A. P. White, H. H.
Mayer, J. J. Opsahl, E. H. Denu, and E. A. Barker appointed to take the matter up with W. H. Gemmell, manager of the Minnesota & International railroad.

On account of the cancellation of a train on the Northern Pacific railway at Little Falls the train from Brainerd to the Twin Cities is delayed three hours each day. The Sunday night and Monday morning
trains to Bemidji have also been taken off, on the Minnesota & International railroad.

The members of the club, when called upon for personal opinions by President Schumaker, said that while they did not want the railroad companies to operate their trains at a loss they would appreciate any move on the part of the railroads to better
the Bemidji service.

At a special meeting held later,
Mr. Gemmell said he would do all he could to improve the service.

LAND DRAWING AT MINOT

Fourteen Hundred Names Are Handled the First Day.

St. Paul, Nov. 5.—Six residents of St. Paul were included among the early winners in the land drawing lottery at Minot, N. D. More than 20,000 persons had entered the contest, each in hope of gaining one of the 700 claims opened to settlement
on the Fort Berthold Indian reservation in the west-central part of North Dakota, about sixty miles northwest of Mandan. Fourteen hundred names were drawn.

The 160 acres in every claim are said to be well worth having. Some tracts have been appraised as high as $8 an acre, or $1,280 a claim, which is believed to be a conservative valuation.

The settler who wishes to pay for his land at once at the appraised value, or within fourteen months, must live upon the claim that long. If, however, he prefers to take more time, he can pay in installments and remain on the land five years, or get title upon making his final payment
at any date between fourteen months and five years, provided he had occupied the claim until that date.

His Trouble.

"How are you getting on with your golf?"
"Not very well."
"What's the trouble?"

to get on."—Detroit Free Press.

MANY LIVES LOST
IN TUBE BUILDING

More Killed in Construction
Work Than Passengers.

EIGHT PERISH IN CAVE-IN.

Record of Subway Building in New York Replete With Disaster, While
For Years Millions Have Traveled In Completed Tubes With Comparatively Little Loss of Life.

Subway construction in New York has been fraught with more accidents in which fatalities were recorded than the actual operation of trains in the completed tubes, exclusive of persons run down by trains. Disasters were frequent in the building of the Interborough until it was opened eleven years ago. Since that time there has been only one accident of importance
—that of Jan. 6, in which 500 persons died in a cave-in in the tunnel through Manhattan, and in which one life was lost.
This caused several hearings before the public service commission, at which testimony was given regarding the connection between the accident at Broadway and Fifty-third street and the piercing of a cable by a drill eleven blocks downtown, where work for the new Seventh Avenue subway was going on.

Two accidents marked the building of the Interborough. The first was in January, 1902, when six persons were killed by an explosion at Forty-first street and Park avenue and the Grand Union and Murray Hill hotels were damaged. Two months later two houses on Park avenue at Thirty-fifth street caved in.

On Dec. 28, 1911, two laborers lost their lives in a cave-in in Fourth avenue, Brooklyn.

Fourteen More Killed.

Eight accidents have occurred in construction work in New York within the last three and one-half years, in which fourteen lives were lost. The first was on March 11, 1912, when four men were buried in Fifty-seventh street, west of Lexington avenue. One of these lost his life. A small landslide occurred in the excavation where the men were at work and the four fell twenty feet.

Two weeks later Lexington avenue between Eighty-seventh and Eighty-eighth streets, collapsed from curb to curb, and the street surface dropped forty feet. This followed an extra heavy blast, and a street car—the rails being supported by large beams—narrowly escaped the fate of the Seventh avenue trolley which fell into the excavation.

The most serious accident occurred on June 14, 1913, when ten persons were killed by tons of earth and bowlders buried upon them in a cave-in at Lexington avenue and Fifty-sixth street. Another explosion at One Hundred and Twentieth street and Lexington avenue followed a few minutes later.

Perishes in a Cave-in.

One laborer died in a cave-in on Jan.
3, 1914, at Lexington avenue and Sixty-first street, and two others were hurt.
Similar to the manner in which it was contended that the January, 1914, accident was caused, a drill mishap blocked the subway last March at Times square. Clouds of smoke came from the excavation, but no one was hurt. In the same month a blast shook the windows of Broadway stores at Thirty-eighth street, which caused women, thinking there had been an explosion, to run shrieking through the streets.

Two weeks later faulty underpinning caused the sidewalk at Broadway and Twenty-eighth street to sink four feet.
The police reserves were called and found that no one had been killed, although several persons were shaken by their fall to June 11 water main break flooded the new Seventh avenue excavation at Forty-third street.

Eight persons were killed and scores injured when an entire block caved in recently at Seventh avenue and Twenty-fifth street.

A VARIETY OF VEILS.

That this is to be a season of veils is very evident from the number appearing in shop displays, some of them actually built into the new millinery.
Many of the veils are fur edged and spring from a band of fur at the top of the crown. Fur tails dangle from the back points of one fine lace veil.
Another veil in fish net effect is of very heavy weaves, but of very large hexa-gons. Circular veils are quite new and fall from the hat and are sometimes quite short. A short nose veil, called the flirtation veil, is combined with another veil falling in long ripples at the back. The square veil is another innovation, its four corners falling as the wearer wishes to arrange the veil. One veil is shirred into a black moire ribbon ruff and held close to the face in this way. If you want a stunning new veil there is no secret-ry of models from which to take your choice.

EDWARD CLARKE
TO SING TONIGHT

Bass-Baritone in Song-Recital at Elks Hall under Auspices of BRAINERD MUSICAL CLUB

PUPIL OF JEAN DE RESZKE

Program English, Scotch, Irish, French, German, Danish, Norwegian, Russian, Slave Songs

Brainerd is to have an unusual treat tonight in the opportunity to hear a pupil of Jean de Reszke, perhaps the greatest teacher the world has ever known, as well as the greatest tenor. Edward Clarke studied three years with him in Paris at the end of which time the great Polish tenor gave him the following letter:
"Dear Mr. Clarke: Before you leave for America I would like to say how much I am pleased with your progress. With your voice and ability, I can assure you of a splendid career. I wish it with all my heart and pray you to accept my affectionate and sincere regards. Jean de Reszke."

Before that he had worked with Bouhy and Oscar Seagle—the latter
Miss Elizabeth's Armstrong teacher.
Mr. Clarke's experience as a singer has been broad and varied including opera recital, church, and oratorio singing over a period of ten years during which he has appeared over a thousand times in thirty-eight states, Canada, England and France.

The policy of the Brainerd Musical club in bringing such high class and high priced artists to the city for the low admission price of 50 cents—25 cents for students—is most commendable and the chance to hear Mr. Clarke at such a price will doubtless draw a large crowd of music lovers. The concert will take place in the Elks hall beginning promptly at 8:15 tonight.

Mr. Clarke will give an unusual program, the folk songs of various nations:

Garments That Lead
a Double Life

By MARGARET MASON
Written for the United Press

Oh where are the terrors of suburbs?
Communing, oh where is thy sting?
Since wife wears two in one garment
The joys of the country we sing.

New York, Nov. 5.—Hurrah for the garment that leads a double life. It may sound as if it were suitable for only the two faced woman, but indeed all and every woman hails it with delight, the Queen of the Commuters in particular.

You see it's a costume fashioned
with a long, loose coat over a short,
full skirt, giving thereby the simple appearance of a very smart and mod-ish suit.

But not to be deceived! When paddy unbuttons said coat the double dealing is at once revealed. She stands forth resplendent in a stunning, semi-decollette afternoon or restaurant gown of delicate pastel tint. A deep facing of the same dark toned material as the coat around the bottom of the skirt is the link between two complete costumes in one,
the key to the sartorial situation.

It is deep enough to reach up to the coat when that is donned and effect the perfect picture of a suit and yet, with the coat removed, the dark deep skirtband lends richness to the dinner frock exposed, the bodice of which has touches of the same dary toned material to balance up the second of the two in one costumes.

A perfect toilette indeed for the commuter's bride. She can come in early and do her shopping in a fitting and fitted suit and then when fond husband asks her to stay in town to dinner and go to the theatre afterwards, she may accept with perfect equanimity and a perfect frock.

Hubby is always bound to ask her,
too, when she sees what a ravishing
toilette she has up her coat sleeve.
Oh, no commuter's home should be without one of these two fold blessed frocks.

Another bit of double dealing that Dame Fashion is up to this season is an evening gown that becomes its own wrap. It also becomes its own weaver very much.

Fashioned of the fluffy tulle or the new "soire de soir," it is made with a detachable satin or velvet train falling from the shoulders in back and a like straight panel falling from the corsage in front. This train is so devised as to drape around the shoulders and fasten to the front panel, thereby forming an effective evening wrap.

This gown even goes one better and adds a third to its changing charms. By shedding the panel and train all together; presto changed!
Another complete frock is displayed.

A most triumphant triumvirate
truly is this triolet toilette.

A CORRECT JUVENILE.

Another redingote back is featured in this modish design of midnight blue broadcloth. Black silk soutache is effectively used to give pannier effects on the hips. The smart vest of blue and green duvetyn plaid, buttoning snugly at the waist line and merging into a high, slightly rolled collar, is the distinct feature. Soutache richly braids
the front, and the skirt has a boxed hem.

"THE RAISING OF LAZARUS"

Topic of Rev. Johnson's Sermon at the Swedish Revival Meeting
Last Night

GOD WANTS CO-WORKERS

Congratulated Brainerd on Being
Dry City. Quoted Rockford, Ill., Experience

- Choir rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock.
- Services starts at 8 o'clock
sharp.
- Topic for tonight: "Burning Lights or Smoking Flax?"
- Attendance increases.

Evangelists Johnson and Hognander expressed themselves pleased with the outlook for a successful campaign last night. The attendance is all that was expected and the audience is beginning to catch the lively songs and join in with zest.

Rev. Johnson took for his text last night the story of the raising of Lazarus and dwelt especially on the fact that Christ asked those around him to remove the stone. From this lesson he drew the application that God asks us to be his co-workers. "There are many things that we cannot do," said the evangelist, "and we should not try to do things that only the Almighty can do. We cannot save a soul. We cannot produce a genuine repentance. Only the Holy Spirit can do that. Do not think my brother and I have come to your city in the capacity of spiritual "rainmakers", that can contract to bring so much blessing in so long a time. We will trust God to do his own work. But there are things that God will not do for us. No farmer can by his own power bring forth a single potato or grain of wheat, only the Creator can do that. But no farmer expects God to plow his field for him. That is something he will have to see himself. And if he falls in that, the crop will fail and he will have himself to blame for it.
If you Christians here in Brainerd will remove the stones at the graves of your loved ones, we will join you in asking the Lord to call those loved ones out of the graves of sin and spiritual death, and we shall rejoice together."

Before the sermon the evangelist congratulated Brainerd on being a dry city. "The story in this afternoons Dispatch, about the big concern planning to locate here, seems to strengthen our arguments that a dry city always is a prosperous city," he said. "I have for more than a dozen years lived in Rockford, Illinois, from whence I came to Minneapolis," he continued, "and there we voted that city of 50,000 people dry, and folks feared hard times and high taxes. After we had tried it for two years, we were so pleased, that the city that went dry the first time with less than two hundred majority, went dry eight years later, with four thousand majority. There is a great future for your city and you will live to see the day when many of those who feared to stand with you in the fight, will bless the day the drys won.
We like your city and will enjoy every hour we can spend with you."

cold, give a teaspoonful of "Califordigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well,

playful child again.

this harmless "fruit laxative," be-

Cooks in one third the time

Creamettes is a new American made
macaroni product
that cooks in one-third the time
of ordinary macaroni.

Creamettes is different from ordinary macaroni. Most people think it is better.

Creamettes is short in length—just a little over three quarters of an inch long. It just fits the fork.

Creamettes is manufactured by a special process from the creamiest parts of the best Durum Wheat. Compare Creamettes' creamy white color with ordinary macaroni.

Creamettes is more tender, more delicious. It is the product of the 20th century. It contains twice the nutriment of beef at less than half the cost.
Creamettes can be prepared in many delicious ways.

RECIPES

A ten cent package makes an ample meal for a family of six. If used with another food, one package is sufficient for ten persons.

To prepare Creamettes, pour the quantity desired into an open kettle of boiling salted water and boil from 5 to 8 minutes until tender. Then drain and chill in cold water.

CREAMETTES AND CHICKEN

Creamettes and chicken make a delightful dish for Sunday night lunch.
Mix the desired quantity of boiled and chilled Creamettes with sliced cold chicken. Moisten with cream gravy. Add butter, salt and pepper to suit taste. Place in hot oven and bake for from five to ten minutes.

If you always keep Creamettes in the house, you are prepared for the unexpected guest or any emergency.

VILLA REACHES ARIZONA BORDER

Has 3,000 Men of Army Defeated at Agua Prieta.

KILLED SUCCORING WOUNDED

Mexican General Reports Four Americans Were Slain Under the Red Cross Flag During Recent Fighting and Were Buried on the Field Where They Fell.

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Francisco Villa reached the border across from here with 3,000 of the army defeated by the Carranza forces Monday at Agua Prieta and told American army officers that Dr. R. G. Thighen, chief surgeon of the Cananea Consolidated Copper company; his assistant, Dr. Miller, and two American chauffeurs, J. D. Pylant and A. L. Wilson, had been killed by Calles' fire in front of Agua Prieta.

They were succoring wounded at the time and, wandering into the line of fire, were shot down while under a Red Cross flag.

They were buried where they fell, but Villa, while formally expressing regret at their death, declined to say where they were buried.

Four thousand of Villa's men are at Villa Verde, a watering station and cattle center, twenty-two miles south on the Naco-Cananea railroad.

Another detachment was reported to be looting stores and residences at Cananea.

Villa began receiving supplies as soon as he reached Naco and stated that he personally intended to leave it was believed that he would go to Nogales, where the army here would follow him.

Shortly after he appeared at Naco with a detachment bringing more than 100 wounded men Villa came up to the boundary to make a report of the death of the four Americans.

"I regret that they were killed," he said, "but they are dead and buried."

How an Engineer Keeps Well

Railroad engineers are more exposed to catching cold than other workers. E. G. Dunaphant of Monticello, Mo., has run a Frisco engine 25 years and all the medicine he has taken is Foley's Honey and Tar. He writes: "I always keep it in my house and recommend it to all who have a bad cough or cold." H. P. Dunn, druggist.

BUILD UP MILITIA, CRY IN CONGRESS

Offers More Attractions Than the Regular Army.

MEN HAVE MANY SOCIAL TIES

Stay at Home All the Time and Remain in Their Business, While Enlisted Men Get Little Amusement or Pay. Fear That Large Standing Army Would Change These Conditions.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The stumbling block in the way of the administration program for increasing the army and building up a Continental reserve is found in the desire of senators and members to strengthen the militia rather than the regular force. That idea permeates the states generally, and particularly as it is believed that a Continental force such as proposed will be likely to destroy the militia.

Senator Martin of Virginia, one of the shrewd and influential members of the senate, says that the federal government has been unable to recruit the regular army to the full strength now authorized, and, with every inducement which is offered, the army is short 15,000 men. He says that is because men are averse to enlisting for long service in the regular army, which is undesirable save in times of actual war.

The Militia Idea.

"In times of war," said the senator, "it is easy to secure state troops, as the young men enlist thinking of it as a sort of frolic and affording excitement, change and the possibility of honorable advancement. There is no such possibility for the regular army man. His life at best is far from what the militiamen enjoy."

He further pointed out that the militia companies are social organizations; that the men remain at home while they belong to the militia and are among friends and acquaintances save when ordered to duty. The life of the militiamen has inducements which are not found in the regular service.

The Idea Will Grow.

It is probable that the idea of strengthening the militia will grow as senators and representatives see that the expenditure of money for militia will mean something for their states and districts. More than that, the militia has always been a very good political asset to the men who have fostered the organizations and helped them along. Those men in congress who stand for the militia, if successful in securing several of the proposed millions to make the militia more attractive, will be sure to have the support of the militiamen in their political contests.

Texas Not Yet Aroused.

A man from Texas says that the people of that state pay little attention to the campaign which different statesmen are waging for the senatorship next year. The Texans have other things to think about and for the most part are busy gathering in the big crops which have been produced, notwithstanding the storms which have been so destructive in several parts of the state. Texas is so big that it would take more than a monster storm to reach a majority of its people. The general opinion seems to be that Culberson will be able to defeat all his opponents.

Another Constitutional Amendment.

It is expected that another constitutional amendment will be brought forward if it is found that the migratory bird law is unconstitutional. The people are bound to protect the birds of this country. Just now the farmers are alive to the fact that birds of all kinds destroy insects which prey upon crops. Once the farmers started and they are a great power.

Should Speed Him.

One of the Democratic senators bitterly opposed to Bryan at the Baltimore convention was told that Bryan had an ambition to go to Europe and by his matchless oratory and persuasive powers bring about peace among the distracted nations.

"The Wilson administration should speed him on his way," replied the senator. "They ought to pay for his ticket and pay his expenses if he will remain in Europe for the next year and a half. I know of no man that the Democratic party can spare better at this time than Bryan."

Doesn't that indicate that there are some fears that Bryan may make trouble before and possibly after the next convention?

A Suffrage Document.

Nearly two years ago when the congressional committee of the National Women Suffrage association was really doing effective work in Washington there was unearthed a report made by Thomas B. Reed in support of suffrage. It was reprinted and has done the suffrage cause more good than anything that has been put in circulation.

"They are going out by the thousands and thousands every week," said Senator Clapp of Minnesota, "and they are the most effective literature in circulation. The old hard backs grab and read them because they think Reed would be with them if he were still alive, and in that way they reach the very people we want to convince."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Best

This is the story of "The Master Mind" in which Edmund Breese stars at the Best theatre:

Pledging to revenge the execution of his brother, whom the district attorney caused to be convicted, Richard Allen, a quiet individual who takes delight in concealing his identity by playing the role of a valet to an extravagant young man in New York, plots for the downfall of the prosecutor and educates his cleverest female crook, "Three Arm Maggie," with a view of having her fascinate and marry the district attorney.

The Master Mind, under various disguises, informs the district attorney that he will receive the four aces at certain intervals and when he receives the ace of spades, the end will be near.

Richard Allen, known as the Master Mind, conceives many diabolical plots looking forward to the ruination of his enemy, the District Attorney and finally succeeds in arousing his anger and jealousy, and is about to crush the unsuspecting Attorney when "Three Arm Maggie," who has really fallen in love with her husband, pleads with the Master Mind to withdraw and the Master Mind, who has come to love Maggie, himself, does withdraw through love for her, and disappears, to be seen no more.

The powerful gang of crooks, over which he held a formidable leadership, is disbanded and the district attorney, not knowing that Maggie is a reformed crook, goes on in his own way, becomes governor of the state, and everything ends as it should.

At the Grand

Another famous play is given the moving picture public, and another illustrious star makes her impression on the screen in the current Famous Players production, Henrietta Crosman in "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch." Henrietta Crosman's reputation on the speaking stage ranks her with the greatest American stars, and the play itself has recorded one of the greatest successes in the history of American dramatic art.

The play devotes itself to a presentation of facts as they exist in many American homes—and for that matter, in homes throughout the universe. The little differences that spring up with no cause or explanation, between husband and wife, and that so often threaten the happiness of both, are bared with surprising boldness, but the story terminates with the promise of a brighter dawn and a better understanding that not alone contents the auditor, but illustrates a profound lesson besides.

The dramatic role that falls upon the talents of Henrietta Crosman is so tense and continuous in its interest and appeal that the real purpose of the play, the moral, does not obtrude itself upon the patience of the audience, but rather provides a thread of reason that quietly but forcefully accompanies the dramatic development of the play.

Produced in the lavish manner familiar in Famous Players productions, with settings both appropriate and dignified, the production will live long in the memory of those who witness it.

RURAL TEACHERS AND OFFICERS

Convention Today Brings Over 100 Teachers and 250 Board Members to Town

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

County Superintendent Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley Says It's Best Meeting Ever Held

Over 100 teachers and 250 members of school boards are attending the rural school officers and teachers convention at Brainerd, meetings being held at the Chamber of Commerce.

"This is the best gathering in numbers and interest aroused that we have ever held in the county," said Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, county superintendent of schools. She spoke at the morning session.

An address showing deep thought gained from experience was that of Miss Atkinson of St. Cloud who spoke on rural schools and praised the equipment found in rural schools.

In the country each school had a globe for teaching geography. In Minneapolis where she taught there was no globe in her room. The rural schools had plenty of maps. The city school had one set for many rooms.

Rural schools had their own libraries. City school teachers as in Minneapolis sometimes traveled five miles to the city library, borrowed a number of books for the school, carried them home, then to school a mile next day, and finally arriving at her destination, the books could not be kept over a week, and borrowing full limit there would still be only 40 books for 45 pupils.

At the Chamber of Commerce the schools had exhibits, one of the best and most comprehensive being made by the Mudbrook school of district No. 70 which displayed a booth full of booklets, sewing and manual training work. Miss Rachel Roderick is teacher there. Her school is in the extreme northwest end of the county and is reached by traveling twenty miles northwest of Aitkin on country roads and trails.

Twenty miles from a railroad did not deter the little Mudbrook school and their valiant teacher. They came to the convention with just about the best showing of any school represented.

Assistant State Superintendent G. M. Cesander was not present in the morning, but is expected to speak this afternoon.

At the afternoon meeting, a joint session of teachers and board members, Miss Rachel Roderick will give a report on the industrial work of her school. W. W. Phillips of Pequot will tell of their consolidated school. Miss Atkinson will speak on "How to Create a Greater Interest in the Rural School."

This will be followed by a social period and the inspection of the exhibits.

On Saturday morning there will be the meeting of the teachers. Mrs. Laurence, instructor of the normal training department in the Brainerd schools, will give a short address. Miss Atkinson will speak on "Sent Work."

The meeting will then be given over to the Teachers Association.

WHO DRANK BEER BEFORE YEAR 1855?

Brainerd Brewing Co., in its Answer in U. S. District Court Before Judge Morris

SAYS NO BEER BREWED IN 1855

Arguments of Government and Liquor Men to be Heard on Monday, Nov. 8, Maybe at Duluth

If there is any advocate of prohibition who drank beer before the year 1855, let him speak out, and save the day for the government in its fight to close the Brainerd brewery.

Judge Page Morris, of the United States district court, having issued a restraining order last week preventing the Federal officers from closing the saloons in Hibbing and Chisholm until after eight days, the Brainerd Brewing company expects to thwart the Federal agents of the law in its efforts to close the brewery.

In the answer to the government's order to stop the sale of liquor in compliance with the treaty of 1855, the Brainerd Brewing company sets forth that the treaty could not have referred to beer as a spirituous liquor because beer was not brewed at that time, it alleges.

Judge Morris will have that question to decide next Monday when arguments will be made by the government and the liquor men. The liquor men ask a permanent order restraining the government from preventing the sale of liquor within the territory prescribed in the treaty.

Judge Morris decided upon Minneapolis as the place for holding the hearing, but it is possible that he will change the place to Duluth. Deputy United States Marshall Mallory has been serving papers on various parties to the suit on the range.

"BILLY PRUNES" GARDNER GONE

Well Known Travelingman of Stone Ordean Wells Co. Passed Away At Staples

The following from the Fergus Falls Journal will be of interest to the many local friends of "Billy Prunes" Gardner a former resident of St. Cloud. His son Richard and daughter Sadie, formerly attended the St. Cloud schools.

The article follows:

W. B. Gardner, known all over the northwest as "Billy" Gardner, died at Staples at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after a long illness. Mr. Gardner traveled for the Stone Ordean Wells Co., of Duluth, is one of the pioneer traveling men of the state and has for years made his home in this city, having a suite of rooms at the Grand Hotel here. He has suffered from dropsical trouble, and in July was given a six months' vacation by his company in the hope that a rest and outing would prove beneficial. He went to Otter Tail Lake and spent the balance of the summer there, but has been growing gradually worse and a short time ago, was taken to Staples where his death occurred.

Mr. Gardner was born in New Jersey and was 58 years of age. He was one of the kindest of men—a man who fairly radiated good nature—and his friends were legion. He was deeply beloved in his home circle, was one of the most successful as well as one of the pioneer traveling men, and is survived by his wife and two children—Miss Sadie Gardner, who teaches in the Minneapolis schools, and Richard Gardner, who is a practicing attorney at Staples.

He was a member of the Elks lodge of this city and of the United Commercial Travelers' of Duluth.

The remains will be taken to Minneapolis today and the services will be held at Lakewood Chapel at 8 o'clock tomorrow, Thursday morning. The body will be cremated there and the ashes will probably be taken east.

CANDIDACY WELL RECEIVED

Press of the Sixth District has Many Words of Praise for C. B. Buckman, Congressional Candidate

Since the announcement was made that Hon. C. B. Buckman had filed for the republican nomination for congress from the Sixth district the press of northern Minnesota have handed him many complimentary and flattering notices, among which is the following from the Detroit Record:

Hon. Clarence Bennett Buckman, who recently announced his candidacy for congress in the Sixth district to succeed Hon. Chas. A. Lindbergh, who is an avowed candidate for governor, located in the vicinity of Little Falls forty-two years ago, and for the greater part of the time since he has been one of the leading citizens of his city, county and state. In 1881 he was sent to the state legislature, serving two years in the lower house, and in 1883 he became state senator, and was in that body for eight consecutive years, and was later elected for another four year term. He represented the Sixth district in the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth congress and while in Washington served on several important committees.

His wide experience in public affairs has made of Mr. Buckman one of the best informed men in Minnesota. At present he is serving as deputy United States marshal and, in the fulfillment of the duties of his position, he is sent over a large area of the state. This well qualifies him as an able representative of the state, for he is familiar with its every need and advantage.

Personally, Mr. Buckman is one of the most genial men imaginable; a pleasing conversationalist, capable of adapting himself immediately to his surroundings and his hundreds of friends outside of the Sixth district trust he may be sent back as a member of the national law-making body.

In a personal letter to the Record editor, Mr. Buckman says:

"I am a candidate for congress as a Republican, and shall accept the platform as laid down by the national convention.

"I want to see the party get together—it is bigger than any man, and it is the only way to win. I want to see a better feeling between capital and labor. If they will be fair with each other, I will be fair with both. Above all, I am an American, and care not under which flag my friends have been raised; but there is only the one under which for us all now to live. I will try to be loyal to its every tradition."

DEMOCRATS SEE VICTORY IN 1916

Say Progressive Can't Be Nominated; Republican Can't Win.

THINK G. O. P. CAN'T UNITE

By ARTHUR W. DUNN. Washington, Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Democratic senators who have been in Washington for several days have conferred among themselves and figured out that it is impossible to lose the next election. This is the way one of them states the position of the Republicans:

"A Progressive cannot be nominated in the next Republican convention, and a standpat Republican cannot be elected."

It is evident that the Democrats believe that the two wings of the Republican party cannot be united. They feel assured that the division in the Republican ranks will insure the election of Woodrow Wilson for a second term without any great difficulty and beyond any doubt.

It is believed that Borah and Cummins and perhaps La Follette will have enough strength, all of a progressive character, to continue the party divisions in the Republican convention. It is not believed that either will be nominated and that a man who has been considered a standpat Republican or Weeks, possibly Root—will be named and that the Progressives will become lukewarm and refuse to exert themselves during the campaign.

Republican senators refuse to admit that there is any such contingency and say that when the last congress adjourned there was evidence of a get together movement among Republicans and Progressives which promised harmony in the future. Both sides will continue to talk confidently until after the election. "Simple and Effective." One of the Democratic senators, speaking of the president, said: "Wilson's plan of presidential procedure is simple and effective. He finds out what the people want and then proclaims it as his policy. In that way he cannot go wrong. He cannot run counter to public opinion and is assured of support for the policies of the administration, a support that is powerful with congress."

Brooklyn a Doubtful Section. "How's everything in New York?" ex-Congressman Metz was asked one day when he appeared at the White House with a bundle of documents and papers which the president did not see. "New York is all right," he replied, "but the trouble is in Brooklyn. That is the black hole of politics. No one can tell what will happen in Brooklyn, and we will not know until after the votes are counted."

"Will Fitz pull through?" was the next question, for nearly everybody in Washington was interested in the New York election because Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee was running for a judgeship. "We all hope so; but, as I told you, no one can tell what Brooklyn will do," replied Metz. "Fitz ought to be elected; the Democratic party owes it to him, but they are trying to make it nonpartisan because a judge is to be elected. However, I do not see anything in that."

Dumping Fear Grows. As the prospects appear for something happening which will end the war in Europe administration officials show more concern about the possibility of this country becoming the dumping ground for European products, and measures are being considered to prevent what it is said will be a calamity. It seems certain that an anti-dumping law will have to be passed by congress, for it is not believed the present laws are adequate.

"The Europeans have got to sell in this country for any price they can get," said Senator Smoot, "for this country has all the money."

Gala Times in the District. The happy days in the District of Columbia have been started six weeks earlier than the usual schedule calls for. The old fight is on before congress meets, and a joint committee is making an inquiry as to whether congress shall continue to pay half of the expenses of the District, where the federal government owns about half the property. This contest has been one of the favorite diversions of a certain class of congressmen for many years. But it is hard to secure legislation to stop the half and half plan, which was established many years ago when conditions were different.

Sounds Rather Queer. The constant clamor coming from the Mexican border for more and still more troops to protect the United States against Mexicans sounds rather queer. Just after this government has recognized Carranza and everything was to be all lovely it is found that the banditti are making trouble for our people. It would seem that certain Mexicans are bound to make the United States take a hand in their affairs.

GREAT NORTHERN TO EXTEND

Will Build Line to Glentana Before Another Year. Glentana, Mont., Nov. 5.—"You will ride out from Glentana on the Great Northern before another year," said Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway, in an address here. His message put new cheer into the north country.

Thousands of bushels of grain are to be hauled to the railroad from Glentana. Scobon, the terminus of the Great Northern's Bainville branch, and fifty-two miles away, is the nearest marketing point.

DRIVEN INSANE BY ILLNESS

New Yorker Kills Wife, Son and Himself Besides Wounding Infant.

New York, Nov. 5.—Crazed with despair because of his wretched physical condition, Edward McManus, aged thirty-one years, killed his wife and his little son William, four years old, by cutting their throats with a razor. He then killed himself after slashing his two-months-old daughter. The infant will recover.

McManus was dismissed from a hospital a few days ago after two operations.

DEMOCRATS SEEK MORE REVENUE

Want to Raise Money Without Unduly Taxing People.

NO SURPLUS IN TREASURY.

This is the One Big Difficulty That the Administration's Defense Program Presents—Call For a Greater Navy Comes at a Time When Money For Ordinary Expenses is Hard to Get.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 4.—[Special.]—The Democratic party is still looking for that famous recipe which will tell its leaders how to tax people so that they will not feel the burden; how to raise revenue without taking it from the people; how to meet a deficit and immense expenditures without additional taxes or a large bond issue.

That the country has been spending too much money for a great number of years has been evident to every understanding mind. When the late Senator Aldrich said the government was costing $300,000,000 more than was necessary he created a little talk, but no one took him seriously enough to heed his warning and reduce expenditures. But every man who has had the responsibility of handling appropriations has solemnly warned his fellow congressmen week after week about this extravagance.

Effects of the extravagance, which has been growing by leaps and bounds, comes just at a time when it pinches the worst. The country, according to the judgment of those who are in positions of responsibility, wants the nation put in a state of defense at a great cost. If there was a surplus or a prospect of one, the increased expenditures might be met without unduly taxing the people. But the demand comes at a time when more revenue is needed for the ordinary expenses of the government.

Thus it happens that the Democratic leaders are anxiously looking for a man with a plan to raise money in such a way as to not impose additional burdens on the people.

Always a Politician. Ormsby McHarg is always a politician. There are men who no longer hold office who are engaged wholly in business and who have previously been in politics, but leave it alone when they retire, but McHarg is not that kind. He says he does not care for office; he is interested in the "game."

McHarg learned his politics in North Dakota, and he has been found mighty useful by national politicians since he first appeared in Washington. He has often been sent into southern states to see that the "right kind of delegates" are elected to national conventions. His trail has been marked by contests and the usual upheaval when the national conventions assemble.

Sees Republican Victory. McHarg believes the Republicans will win. He looks for them to nominate some man who is almost unheard of nationally, like Harrison in 1888. He probably has forgotten that Harrison was a brigadier general in the civil war and served six years in the senate; that he was an active candidate for the nomination long before the convention met. If there is to be a dark horse named he will have to be of less prominence than Harrison, for Harrison went into the national convention with Indiana and other delegations behind him.

A Minnesota Straw. Governor Hammond of Minnesota has given up the idea of being a candidate for senator and his chief Democratic rival, Dan Lawler, has decided to become a candidate for governor against Hammond rather than try for the senate. This is a straw showing the direction of the political breeze in Minnesota. The governorship is a much easier road for a Democrat than the senate. Minnesota has elected three Democratic governors in recent years, but has never sent a Democrat to the senate.

Society Uneasy. Until the social policy of the new mistress of the White House is determined Washington society will continue to be uneasy. Mrs. Norman Galt may cause the "smart set" to mingle with the "tradespeople." She is in trade, having continued the jewelry business of her husband. She may welcome these tradespeople whom she has known all her life at the various White House affairs. It will mean a mixing up of society which has not been heretofore permitted. For twelve years previous to the present administration social lines were drawn with a distinctness that everybody could see. The White House was the center of wealth and aristocracy, and the tradespeople and middle class were relegated to their own social level. Will Mrs. Galt when she becomes Mrs. Wilson change these conditions?

Culberson of Course. When there has been a time when a Culberson could not have his way in Texas? Old Dave Culberson was the idol of the people until Charlie came along to the period where he could take hold. Charlie has been governor or senator ever since. Now he is to be re-elected next year. All the Texans say so, and it seems almost certain that as long as he lives Charlie Culberson can hold his seat.

MANN BOOMS ELIHU ROOT

Comes Out for New Yorker as Presidential Candidate.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—James R. Mann Republican leader in the national house and a possibility for speaker in 1916, came out for Elihu Root for president regardless of the rejection of the New York constitution, which has been construed as putting Root out of the running.

In an address before the Hamilton club Mr. Mann, without mentioning the name of Senator L. Y. Sherman, scoffed at the Sherman "favorite son" candidacy.

He said that Roosevelt would make a good president, but is ineligible and that the one man who "fills the bill" is Root.

Mr. Mann's speech is the first public opposition to the candidacy of Senator Sherman to manifest itself in Illinois.

Townsite Company Will Put up Houses—L. O. Gudgal Remodels His Buildings

Manganese, Minn., Nov. 5.—At the Iron Mountain mine near Manganese three crews of miners are at work. It is said the mining company will in the near future use electricity for light and power at this mine.

All road work around town will be discontinued in a few days for this year. Many miles of roads have been built and improved this summer.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.
